CONFIDENTIAL · CONTROLLED RECORD

Regulation CF Readiness and Portal Engagement Memorandum

Intermediary selection, budget and qualification gates

FR-20 · VERSION 1.1 · 11 NOVEMBER 2026

CONTROLLED RECORD · COMPANY USE

This is a controlled company record for governance, counsel and internal operating use. It is not an offer to sell, a solicitation of an offer to buy, a filing, a qualification, an approval or an executed instrument. Entries are taken from the company records identified in this document.

> Internal memorandum. This document is a preparation record, not an offer, a solicitation, a Form C filing or evidence of SEC qualification. No Regulation CF campaign may begin until the SEC qualifies the offering statement and a registered intermediary opens the campaign.

1. Purpose

This memorandum records the work required before TradingBible Holdings, Inc. can decide whether to conduct a Regulation CF offering. It is intended for the board, counsel and the finance owner. It does not authorize a campaign.

2. What Regulation CF requires

A Regulation CF offering generally involves:

1. an issuer that is organized in and operating in the United States;
2. a offering made through a FINRA-registered funding portal or broker-dealer;
3. an offering statement on Form C, including the required disclosures and financial statements;
4. SEC qualification of the offering statement before the offering begins;
5. investor-limit controls administered by the intermediary;
6. escrow or other compliant handling of investor funds;
7. ongoing annual and current reporting after the offering; and
8. recordkeeping and communications controls.

The company must confirm the current rules, forms, dollar limits and financial-statement requirements with counsel. The rules can change, and the company's eligibility depends on facts that must be verified.

3. Current company readiness

Requirement	Current status	Gap
U.S. organization and operation	Delaware corporation (to be confirmed); operating platform	Confirm jurisdiction, principal place of business and eligibility
Registered intermediary	None selected	Evaluate and engage a portal or broker-dealer
Form C	Not prepared	Prepare from verified company records
Financial statements	No audited financial statements published	Engage accountant; confirm required level of review or audit
Cap table	Preparation schedules exist	Reconcile and document fully diluted basis
Ownership and management	Documented team	Confirm officer appointments and beneficial ownership
Risk factors	Private-placement disclosure exists	Prepare Regulation CF-specific risk factors
Use of proceeds	Board approval pending	Adopt a budget and assumptions

Requirement	Current status	Gap
Investor limits	Not implemented	Use intermediary controls; document review
Escrow	Not established	Confirm intermediary arrangement
Communications policy	Policy exists	Adopt and train
Ongoing reporting	Not implemented	Appoint owner and calendar

4. Portal selection criteria

The company should evaluate at least three intermediaries, if available, on the following:

- current FINRA registration and disciplinary history;
- Regulation CF campaign experience and completion rate;
- quality of disclosure review and issuer support;
- escrow, investor-limit and payment controls;
- fees, expenses and conflicts;
- data security, privacy and retention;
- communications and social-media rules;
- ongoing reporting support;
- termination, transfer and records-return terms; and
- references from issuers and counsel.

The company should not select a portal solely on price or on a promise of a faster launch.

5. Financial statement preparation

The company should engage an independent accountant early. The level of financial-statement review or audit required depends on the offering amount and the company's prior sales. The company should not:

- use management accounts as if they were audited;
- omit related-party transactions;
- net revenue against expenses without disclosure;
- describe a working version as "final" or "approved"; or
- use a projection as a historical result.

6. Disclosure preparation

The Form C narrative should cover:

- the company's business, products and stage;
- the risks that could cause failure;
- the use of proceeds and budget assumptions;

- management, ownership and related-party relationships;
- outstanding debt, SAFEs, options and convertible instruments;
- material litigation, regulatory and tax matters;
- the terms of the securities and resale restrictions;
- the investor-limit rules; and
- the company's reporting obligations.

Every material statement should be traceable to a company record. The disclosure should be written in plain language and should not rely on marketing claims.

7. Communications rules

Before qualification, the company may communicate only in the manner permitted by counsel and the intermediary. Any permitted communication must:

1. identify the company;
2. state that no offer is being made;
3. state that any offer will be made only through the registered intermediary after qualification;
4. avoid amount, price, valuation, allocation or return statements;
5. avoid directing anyone to send money; and
6. be recorded in the communications register.

After qualification, the company must use the qualified offering statement and the intermediary's campaign page. It must not make statements that are inconsistent with the offering statement.

8. Timeline

Phase	Work	Estimated duration
1	Portal evaluation and selection	2–4 weeks
2	Financial statement preparation	4–10 weeks
3	Form C preparation and counsel review	4–8 weeks
4	SEC review and qualification	4–12 weeks, depending on comments
5	Campaign preparation and launch	1–2 weeks after qualification
6	Campaign period	As disclosed in the offering statement
7	Closing and ongoing reporting	Ongoing

The timeline is an estimate, not a promise. SEC review can take longer, and the company may need to amend the offering statement.
