CONFIDENTIAL FUNDRAISING DRAFT

Confidential Private Placement Summary and Notice

Accredited U.S. investors and eligible non-U.S. investors

FR-10 · VERSION 1.0 · 10 NOVEMBER 2026

DRAFT · NOT EXECUTED · COUNSEL REVIEW REQUIRED

This is a confidential drafting instrument for internal review and counsel. It is not an offer to sell, a solicitation of an offer to buy, a filing, a qualification, an approval or an executed agreement. No securities have been offered, sold or issued by reason of this document.

> Confidential — do not forward. This summary is provided only to a person with whom the company has a pre-existing substantive relationship and who has been cleared by an authorized officer. It is not a private placement memorandum, prospectus or offer capable of acceptance. The definitive SAFE and the investor questionnaires control.

1. Important notice

This document is confidential and is furnished solely for the recipient's evaluation of a possible private investment in TradingBible Holdings, Inc. It may not be reproduced, distributed, posted, forwarded or made available to any other person, in whole or in part, without the company's prior written consent.

This summary does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any security. Any offer will be made only through the definitive SAFE and the related investor documents, and only to:

- accredited investors in the United States under Rule 506(b) of Regulation D; or
- eligible non-U.S. persons under Regulation S.

The company has not registered the securities under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or under any state securities law. The securities are subject to substantial restrictions on transfer and may not be resold unless registered or an exemption is available. There is no public market for the securities, and none is expected to develop.

2. The company

TradingBible is a financial-technology company that builds a trading-intelligence platform around a single record: the trade, the decision and the review. The platform combines a professional trading terminal, a broker-synced journal, performance and risk analytics, AI-generated reviews, signals, market data, structured education and a company record.

Legal name: TradingBible Holdings, Inc. Jurisdiction: Delaware, United States — to be confirmed by counsel Website: https://tradingbible.app Public launch date: 25 December 2026 Securities issuer: TradingBible Holdings, Inc.

The company is not a broker-dealer, investment adviser, exchange, custodian or fund. It does not provide investment advice, execute trades for clients or hold client funds. Brokerage, fund, card and token activities remain gated and are not part of this offering.

3. What the company does

The company does not publish revenue, subscriber, churn, AUM or performance figures in this summary. Any figure added later must come from a verified company record and must be clearly labelled as historical or illustrative.

4. Why the company is raising

The proposed financing is intended to support:

- product and engineering delivery, including the terminal, journal, analytics and AI review surfaces;
- security, compliance, legal and audit readiness;
- market-data, cloud and vendor costs;
- launch, partnerships and customer acquisition; and
- a working-capital reserve.

The board has not approved a final use-of-proceeds budget. The table below is a framework. No category is funded, committed or guaranteed.

Category	Proposed allocation	Status
Product, engineering and terminal infrastructure	[___]%	Board approval required
Security, compliance and legal	[___]%	Board approval required
Market data, cloud and vendor costs	[___]%	Board approval required
Growth, partnerships and launch	[___]%	Board approval required
Working capital and reserve	[___]%	Board approval required

5. Proposed instrument

The company proposes to issue post-money SAFE instruments with the following indicative terms. The definitive terms must be approved by the board and set out in the executed SAFE.

Term	Proposed term
Instrument	Post-money SAFE
Valuation cap	US$[_____] post-money
Discount	None
Purchase amount	US$[_____] per investor
Minimum investment	US$[_____]
Pro rata rights	[Yes / No — threshold US$_____]
Conversion	In connection with a bona fide equity financing, subject to the SAFE
Liquidity event	Cash or publicly traded securities consideration, subject to the SAFE
Dissolution event	Pro rata distribution of available assets, subject to the SAFE
Governing law	Delaware
Transfer	Restricted; no public market

A SAFE is not a share of common stock, preferred stock, a convertible note or a secured obligation. It does not pay interest, does not have a maturity date and does not give the holder voting rights. Its value depends on a future financing, liquidity event or dissolution, and the company may never complete an equity financing or a liquidity event.

6. Use of proceeds and runway

The company will maintain a board-approved budget and report the use of proceeds to the board at least quarterly. The company will not use investor funds for:

- a token sale or digital-asset distribution;
- a fund vehicle or outside fund capital;
- brokerage, advisory, exchange or custodial activity; or
- any purpose that requires a licence the company does not hold.

7. Principal risks

An investment in the company involves a high degree of risk. The principal risks are described in the Private Placement Risk Disclosure and Acknowledgment (FR-17), which each investor must review and sign. They include:

- the company is early-stage and may not achieve its plan;
- the securities are illiquid and may never be resold;
- future financing may dilute the investor significantly;
- the SAFE may convert at a valuation that is less favorable than expected, or may never convert;
- the company depends on management, key personnel, third-party data and technology providers;

DRAFT · COUNSEL REVIEW REQUIRED

- the company's regulated products, fund, brokerage, card and token initiatives are not approved and may never launch;
- the company's AI-generated reviews may be incomplete or wrong and are not investment advice;
- cybersecurity, data, sanctions, tax and regulatory risks could harm the business; and
- the company may need additional capital and may not be able to raise it.

8. Investor eligibility

8.1 U.S. investors

A U.S. investor must qualify as an accredited investor under Rule 501(a) of Regulation D. The investor must complete the accredited-investor questionnaire and the bad-actor questionnaire, and must provide any additional verification the company requests.

8.2 Non-U.S. investors

A non-U.S. investor must be eligible under Regulation S, must not be a U.S. person, must be outside the United States at the time of the offer and sale, and must complete the Regulation S certificate. The investor is responsible for compliance with the laws of their own jurisdiction.

8.3 No general solicitation

The company is not conducting a public offering. The recipient must not forward this summary, post it, quote it or use it to introduce another investor. Any introduction requires the company's prior written approval and a separate eligibility process.

9. Process

1. Introduction. A company officer confirms that the recipient has a pre-existing substantive relationship with the company and is eligible to receive the summary.
2. Eligibility. The recipient completes the accredited-investor or Regulation S certificate, the bad-actor questionnaire and the risk disclosure.
3. Review. The recipient reviews the definitive SAFE and asks questions of the company and its counsel.
4. Signature. The recipient signs the SAFE through DocuSign.
5. Countersignature. The company verifies the signature, countersigns and delivers a completed copy.
6. Funding. The company delivers funding instructions through a separately verified channel. The investor must never rely on bank details in an email without an independent call-back.
7. Closing. The company confirms cleared funds, updates the SAFE register and cap table, and issues the executed SAFE.
8. Filings. The company files Form D and any required state notices within the applicable deadline.
